Rehearsal Pictures:

In this photo we are reading through the play for Grease as our characters.

In this photo I am concentration and waiting patiently for Patty's lines.

In this photo I am saying my line as Patty Simcox.

In this photo we are doing our dance to 'Grease Lighnin' and I enjoyed every minute of it.

In this photo we are getting prepared and ready to dance 'Grease Lighnin' and I was super excited to get started.

Rehearsal picture's part 2:

In these photos we are getting focused and in the right mindset before we start rehearsals. Phoebe made us close our eyes and made us think about the T-Birds and who's our best friend because it'll help us for characterization and when you have nothing to do on stage or don't have a line then we'll be reacting e.g., if your best friend was talking then you'll be listening more and be more interested whereas if there's someone you not that close with then you wouldn't listen as much and will be focusing on something else and when you read the script, it's important to know the relationship of certain characters.

She also did a focus exercise by saying rolling out arms forwards and backwards and to shake our right and left foot and to make our faces small as we could and big as we could with our eyes closed
