what

I'm going to be doing a mockumentary on the evolution of gaming and how its community has changed between the years. I have chosen this because its something I know a lot about as ive grown up with the changing communities.

how

I'm going to be doing this in a mockumentary style video I will also be using Numaan Maroof in my documentary this is to act as a back and forth comedy. I have chosen him because he has also grown up with different genres of communities .

Target audience

My target audience is people between the ages of 18-20 as this age range will have experienced the topics we are going to be talking about and hopefully I will be able to bring back some nostalgia to this age range as I myself know what it's like to look back on the older days of gaming.
