

The Dead Space game perfected the mixture of the action and horror element which makes the player wanting more while also making the player alert and fearful about what's going to try kill them next.

Dead space is a beloved video game franchise which got a lot of attention and became a commonly known franchise due to how amazing the story and gameplay was.

For my Ben 10 idea I was hoping to go more in depth into the universe and story line of Ben 10 and try to explore what makes the story line so interesting and eye catching for the audience.

My Fmp ideas

The main reason I chose Ben 10 is because within the main story is a time loop with many factors and in depth lore that it becomes very addictive to the average fan.

Norse mythology

When it comes to Norse mythology there is almost an endless amount of information on traditions, culture and gods. This is a prime example of a subject worthy of creating a documentary on.

Along with this, this will give me a wide variety of research points especially if I want to reference all of my work and how I came across the information and how reliable the information is to present.

The creators of the game stopped any creation of future games and was content with 3 Dead Space games. As time went on we upgraded our gaming technology and created higher quality graphics, UI and gameplay engines. Eventually a studio came to the creators and asked to see if they can remake the game with their new gaming technology to give the game the graphics it deserves and fortunately for the Dead Space fans the creators agreed and now we have an exquisite game remake of classic Dead Space.
