Comments:

Well done Millie, you have completed this project to a satisfactory standard. The work submitted meets all the assessment criteria and is of a satisfactory standard. This is a thorough portfolio for you two compositions, although there was a lack of detailed research and evaluation which limited your grade.

Context - You have shown your understanding of this project through your introduction, personal targets and final reflections. You have also demonstrated a good understanding through your music in context work throughout the decades. Be sure to be explicit with showing your understanding in future as well as considering the wider context of the music industry.

Research - You have carried out some basic research, although you could have defined what a composer and compositions are and explained the importance of composing within the music industry. You have also demonstrated primary practical research through your development of your score. There is little music theory research present.

Practical Skills - You have documented the process of composing on Sibelius and Logic – areas in which you made substantial progress. Your final score is good, although it could contain more articulation and dynamics alongside more interesting harmony. Your electronic composition shows some skill and expertise on Logic.

Evaluation and Reflection - Your evaluations are thorough and present through most of your work, although they could be more detailed in places. You included a very brief project evaluation that linked the compositions together and the general importance of the skills you have developed throughout the project.

Millie, this could be a good grade but the lack of research for let you down. Your documentation is ongoing but some tabs are labelled incorrectly, such as 'Sibelius Task 1' (this actually contains all your moving image work). Please proofread in future as there are a few spelling and grammar mistakes.
