Comments:

Millie, this project is completed to a satisfactory standard. Your work meets all the assessment criteria and is of a satisfactory standard. I know you do not find academic writing easy and you have worked hard to complete a 1,500 word essay on a topic you are clearly passionate about.

You have developed and researched your ideas of the sexualisation of pop stars but the final essay lacks direction and focus. The essay is rather muddled at times due to a lack of proofreading. I know that academic writing is not one of your strengths Millie but this is all the more reason to spend more time developing this skill. Give yourself more time to write drafts and receive feedback in future. You have not employed Harvard referencing which must be present in your final project. However, you have made some interesting points and with a more coherent approach this essay could achieve a good grade.
