Commentary as appropriate:

Well done Tia you have completed this project to a Distinction standard. The work submitted meets all the assessment criteria and is of a very high standard. You have created a proposal that provides a detailed and extensive plan for your final project to an excellent standard.

Context – The context of your project matches not only your skill set but provides an opportunity for development in a new area of visual mapping software. The context of your professional development, in combination with developing a professional set and performance is excellent and a clear step towards a professional career. The consideration of using new technology to create a more interactive/immersive performance demonstrates your awareness of the current industry and the importance of these aspects to modern music performance

Research – You have identified a range of sources to inform your practice and illustrated your ability to research effectively in to the area of your project. You could have included more research on mapping technology but there is not a great deal available.

Problem Solving – You have identified potential problems, explaining their potential impact and how they might be solved. You have extended the problem solving by exploring solutions to the questions during the presentation, this provided even more clarity to how you might solve issues.

Planning and Production – Your plan is very precise and detailed with an extensive overview of the project and how you will accomplish this within the time frame allocated. The plan is created to an excellent standard that is logical and focused.

Practical Skills – You have identified all the skills you will require to complete this project successfully, whilst highlighting the skills you will gain and develop.

Evaluation and Reflection – Although the title is missing from section 6 you have explained the methods and frequency of evaluations and reflections that you will provide. The documentary style reflection seems highly appropriate for your project.

Presentation – You have decided to use a professional approach to your presentation that will enable you to develop a professional output and aid towards your future career.

This is an excellent piece of work that demonstrates your ability to work towards planning and producing a final major project in detail. You could extend your research further to include more mapping literature.

Second Marker Comments:

Tia, you show clear development from your initial idea, through to your presentation and finally your proposal. You have reflected at each stage to make improvements to your idea and utilised feedback from peers and tutors. You have a strong idea for an exciting project that is backed up by a well written proposal and detailed planning. An excellent proposal, well done!
