Comments:

Well done Marcel, you have completed this initial assessment to a satisfactory standard. Your initial assessment showcases your drumming ability successfully. You have a nice sound on the kit but there is still lot of room for improvement with certain rhythms, groove, feel and dynamics, however, this is a good overall performance of a challenging piece. You have mentioned that drum lessons will help you improve – they will as long as you dedicate time to practicing. Your video works but you could think about different camera angles in future, for example, overhead. You have completed a very brief written evaluation You have some ideas about ways to improve your performance. However, you need to spend more time on evaluations, and you could experiment with audio and video evaluations. You could use more subject specific terminology in future and proofread your work for spelling, grammar and punctuation. If you can match your written work with your practical work, you are capable of a high grade.

Please now set yourself three SMART targets to improve after receiving this feedback.
