Comments:

Well done Lewis, you have completed this initial assessment to a satisfactory standard. You have chosen a song that is interesting and suits your vocal ability. However, there are a few intonation issues as well as some unsuitable language. You should try use backing tracks without the original vocals on in future. As you are mainly a music producer, it may have been better to showcase music you have produced for your initial assessment. Your written work is well presented and concise with a good command of spelling, grammar and punctuation. However, you need to be more detailed with your evaluations and to explain in more detail how you will achieve your areas for improvement.

Please now set yourself three SMART targets to improve after receiving this feedback.
