

CLAUSTROPHOBIA

BY MY YEAR 3 TEACHER OWES ME A FAVOUR

DISCLAIMER

This power point is not good for two major reasons

- 1 I am not good at power points

2 I was sick while I was working on this as seen here

RULES FOR THIS PRESENTATION

I DID NOT STEAL THIS JOKE FROM MACKENZIE

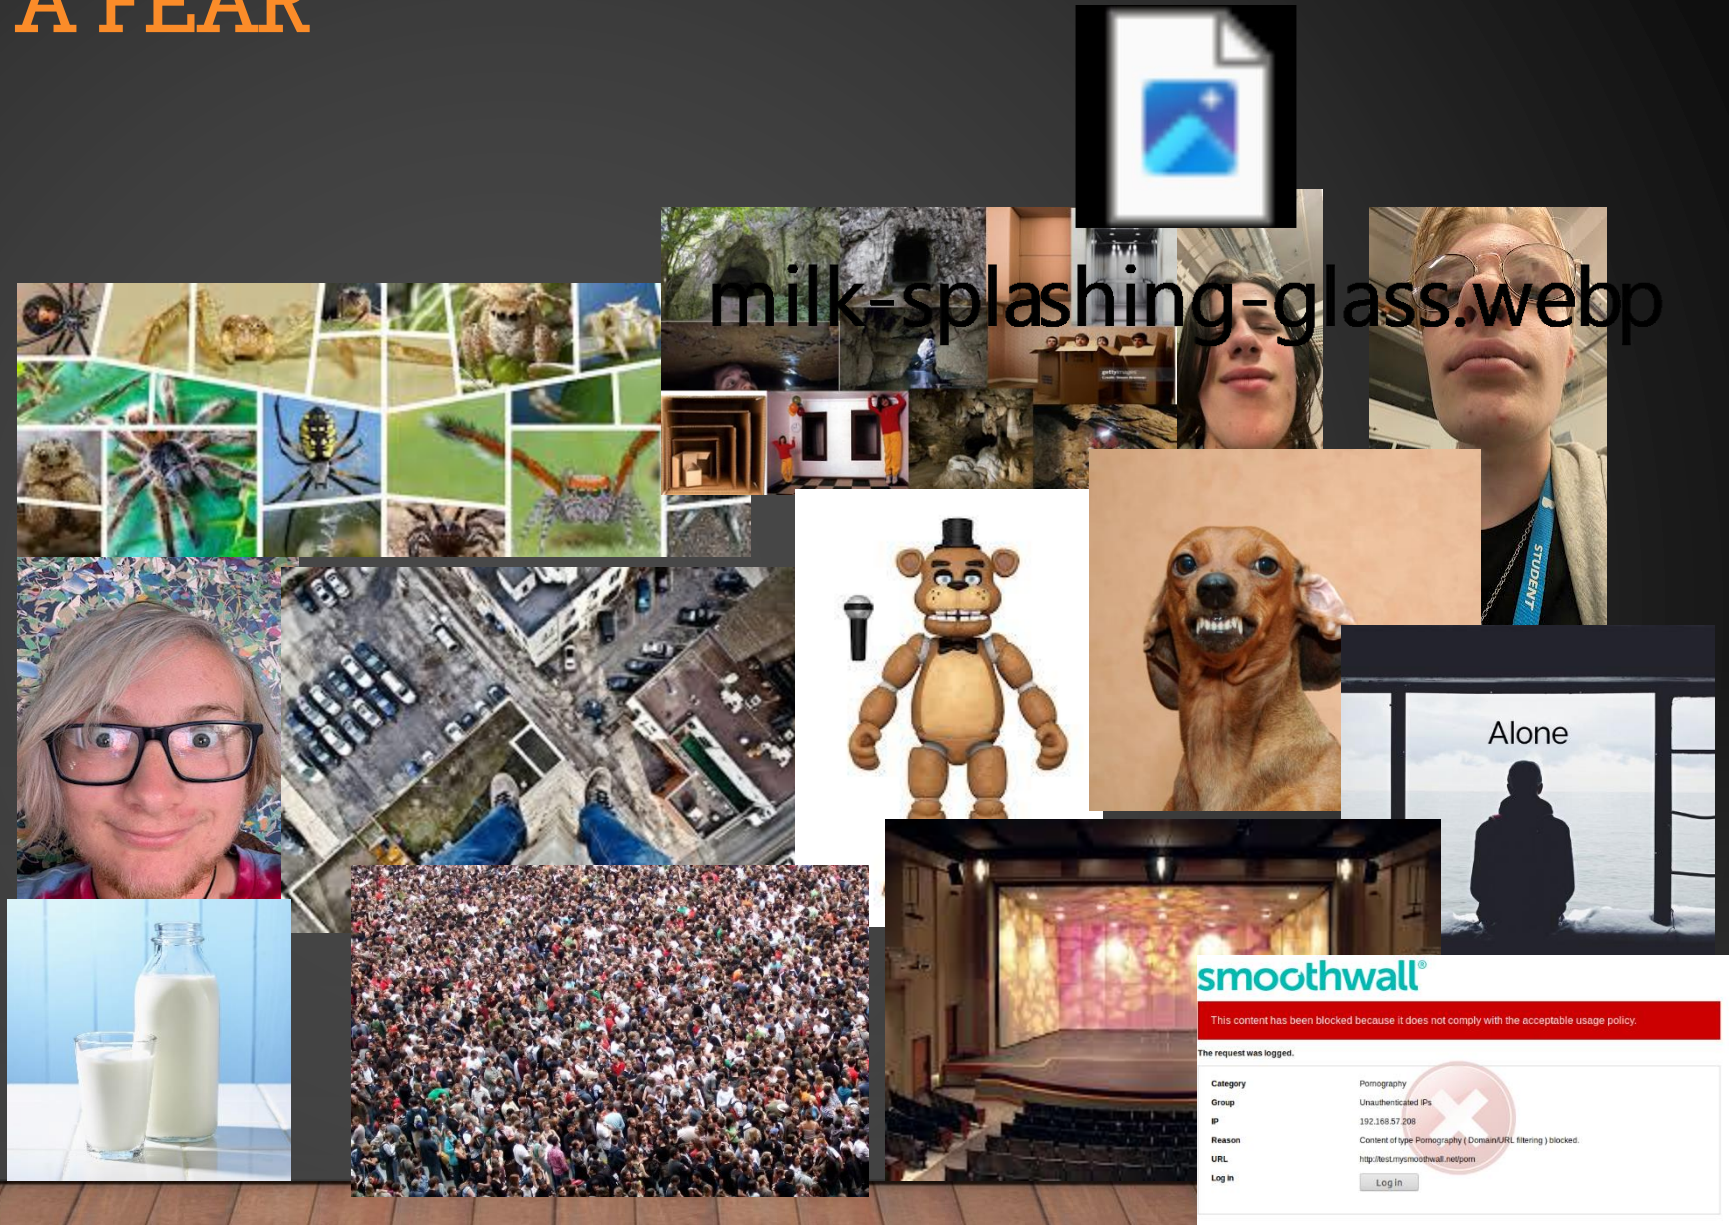

- No interruptions
- Only talk if spoken to
- Tell me I'm pretty
- Don't touch the frog
- This bit has run its course

FAILURE TO COMPLY AND THIS MAN WILL GET YOU

WHO EVEN IS A FEAR

- So to understand this project we need to understand what fear is, so on the right I have assembled a collage of different fears, spiders, stage fright, eye contact, dogs, crowds, heights and being alone
- But there's one I want to focus on and that's calustrophobia

I know those fears were a bit much so here's my cat as a breather

We all good?

Good.

The following 2 slides are showcasing my different research stages finding things that would be relevant for my shoot and they are as following, claustrophobia, macro photography and colour gel lighting

SO WHY CLAUSTROPHOBIA

Well reason 1 is that I think out of the fears I thought of macro photography can work with claustrophobia or at least the way it works.

SO WHY CLAUSTROPHOBIA

The second and more prominent reason is that I myself once had claustrophobia when I was much much younger and while I no longer have it I can still remember what's that like.

LIGHTING TESTS

IDEA

I take a picture of someone under a desk

IDEA

- I then take a picture of the desk and its surroundings zoomed out from the first picture

IDEA

3

I then take the two images into photoshop to be edited

IDEA

4

The end result should come out a little something like this, just better.

Seen here is an edit I did of my friend Alex layering half of a skull over him and masking it onto his face to make it blend better. Now the reason I did this was to A: work on subtle details like his eye being red. And B: was to work on my overall skill in photoshop and find the best way to mix two different layers together.

At the end I hope to have people scared like I was here
