Comments:

Well done Luke, you have completed initial assessment to a good standard. You have thoughtfully showcased an original composition with a breakdown video that is insightful. You demonstrated a track that is interesting and well produced, showing you can compose and mix music effectively. You should learn as much as possible on a variety of DAWs (Ableton and Logic Pro X) to become more experienced and develop further as well as collaborating with singers to create your own vocal samples. Your work is clearly presented with a good command of spelling, grammar and punctuation. You have also shown an effective communication of evaluative and reflective thought through your written work with a clear idea of how to improve your tracks in the future. You have also considered other very important aspects such as promotion and marketing – how will you learn to promote your music better in the future? You should be proud of your initial assessment submission!

Please now set yourself three SMART targets to improve after receiving this feedback.
