Comments:

Well done Ethan, you have completed this initial assessment to an excellent standard. You have made great progress as a bass player and have attempted a much more technically challenging piece than previously. This initial assessment shows your development from last year and through the summer break. Your bass performance is technically well performed, although you could have improved the audio quality. This is not a perfect performance and you have acknowledged the areas to work on. Your evaluation is honest, insightful, and well written. I thoroughly enjoyed your initial assessment – well done Ethan!
