Comments:

Well done Ethan, you have completed this project to a good standard. The work you have submitted meets all assessment criteria and is of a high standard. This is a very insightful piece of writing full of interesting opinion and personal discovery.

You have understood the context of your essay well and this is clearly demonstrated throughout all your ideas and final essay.

Your research and general essay format is well presented. You cover the subject of Motown comprehensively.

Your writing is opinionated and well written, however, you could have benefitted from backing up your sources with further research. You have stated some interesting sources, but are not always mentioned in your essay.

Your conclusion attempts to relate this information to your own opinion but it could be more detailed.

Well done Ethan, this is an original piece of writing!
