Comments:

Well done Albert, you have completed this project to a good standard. The work you have submitted meets all assessment criteria and is of a high standard. This is a very interesting take on punk culture.

There are a number of different project ideas listed at the beginning of this project but no detail or research relating to these ideas.

You have shown a good understanding and knowledge of Dubstep throughout this essay.

You have shown original interpretations of the relationship between Dubstep and culture, although you mainly used one source for this. You could have backed up the points you made with further investigation of secondary sources.

The main area for improvement is the lack of sources and references throughout the essay. Although your interpretations were engaging and often accurate, you must use other opinions to substantiate your claims in academic writing.

Well done Albert, this is a strong piece of writing that could have been excellent with more detailed research and referencing.
