Screen Yorkshire has been a valuable partner for the Bradford School of Art, providing extensive support to our students through various initiatives. They conduct workshops that enhance our learners' industry knowledge, offer personalised CV consultations, and deliver insightful career talks. Additionally, we collaborate on practical projects, such as "Murder on the Dance Floor" and "Two Weeks to Make it", which allows students to apply their skills in real-world scenarios. This relationship exemplifies our commitment to adapting our curriculum based on employer feedback and preparing our students for successful careers in the Creative Industry.
